Doctor Who I Presume?

Jindalee State School is celebrating Children’s Book Week this week with the theme “Read Across the Universe”. As part of our celebration our Library Resource Centre has undergone an amazing transformation. There are some unusual visitors and strange vehicles that, together with the books on display, are capable of transporting us across the universe of imagination and learning. Owen and Sydney were found exploring the Tardis that appeared in the library over the weekend. This week all students are invited to come to the library and explore the universe that reading opens up for us. There is much to see and do thanks to the hard work of our teacher librarian Mrs Ahnon and her assistant Mrs Bryant.

Children’s Book Week is held annually and has been going for sixty-eight years. The Children’s Book Council of Australia has announced the Book of the Year 2013 winners in the five categories, Margo Lanagan won Book of the Year in the older readers category, with her novel Sea Hearts. The Terrible Suitcase, which was co-authored by Emma Allen and Freya Blackwood, took out the award in the early childhood category. Ron Brooks and Julie Hunt’s The Coat won the Picture Book of the Year, while Tom the Outback Mailman, written by Kristin Weidenbach and Timothy Ide shared the Eve Pownall Book of the Year 2013.

Jindalee State School teacher librarian, Miriam Ahnon said the awards show that Australian authors and illustrators are producing enduring works that will become part of our cultural history.

“There is increasing awareness of how crucial it is that all of our students achieve competent levels of literacy. The best way to achieve that is to provide our students with engaging and high quality books in an environment that is exciting and supportive. We strive to achieve that in our own school library by introducing our students to the wonderful world of books,” said Mrs Ahnon.

Behaviour Review

At Jindalee State School, we are fortunate to have the majority of our students respectful and well behaved. When there are exceptions, we have a range of strategies and options to assist to manage the behaviour. To ensure those policies and strategies are meeting the needs of our school, there is currently a review of our behaviour management and support practices. The review group is using the EQ school discipline audit document to align our practices and reflect a positive and supportive approach. The review group will be calling for public submissions during its data gathering phase and all interested members of the community will be able to provide their views and ideas. I believe we already have a solid basis and the recommendations of the review group will ensure that our policies and practices not only align with the new EQ audit requirements but also ensure that at Jindalee our teachers are able to focus on teaching and our students on their learning.

Independent Public Schools Forum

As provided in the special edition of the newsletter last week, our school is conducting a consultation process to determine whether it will be in our best interests to apply to become Independent Public School. A public meeting will be held at the school on Thursday 22 August in Kirinari commencing at 7.30pm. A speaker from a current IP school will be at the meeting to talk about their experience and to answer any questions and information from the Department of Education and the Queensland Teachers Union will also be available. We look forward to seeing you there.

Jindalee Fete

All the fun of the fair will be on display at the Jindalee State School Fete on Saturday 31 August. More information can be found in the P&C newsletter.

Sport

Rugby League

Congratulations to Ezraa Coulston for representing Queensland in the Australian Rugby League championships held in Perth.
